HORRIBLE.

The Murderer of a Whole Family Lynched.

ELECTION OF A NEW PRINCE.

The Mikado's Uncle—Verdict of Carelessness—Good Corn Crop—France—To Die For It.

The Horrible Work of a Murderer.

LAWRENCE, Ks., November 10.—Further particulars as to the crime and lynching of Samuel Purple, say that last Friday morning his wife arose as usual and prepared breakfast. She then went to awaken her husband, which so enraged him as to incite him to the heinous crime which soon followed. He spring violently from his bed, and seizing his revolver shot his wife through the body, from which wound she died at once. The new-born babe was next fired at, with the same result. He then shot and killed another one of his children. His sister-in-law, Miss Lawler, was then selected and fired at, the ball passing through her arm and lodging somewhere in her shoulder. As this emptied his revolver, he proceeded to load his shot gun, in order to complete his work. A slight mistake in this was the only thing that stopped the proceedings. The powder was poured into one barrel and, by an error, the shot into the other. With this he endeavored to blow off the head of another child, but there was nothing except powder in the barrel. The child's face was only severely burned by the explosion. A heavy blanket was seized and wound around the suffering child and this securely wrapped with a heavy wire in the hope that he might accomplish by suffocation what he had failed in by the use of the shotgun. The child will recover, although it will be fearfully disfigured about the face. The murderer then mounted a horse and started across the field towards his wife, with the avowed purpose of murdering his wife's father and mother. Before he could accomplish this, however, the wounded young lady had made her way to the village and notified the inhabitants of what had happened, and they had congregated for resistance. Hearing that his plan was frustrated, Purple hastened to Jettmore and surrendered himself to the authorities, where he was placed in jail, surrounded by a heavy guard. Last night more than 100 men went in a body to the jail and demanded the prisoner, who was delivered up with little ceremony. He was then taken back to the scene of his crime and hanged to a tree. Only one member of the family escaped serious injury, and that was the murderer's little boy, who had hid under his bed when he heard his father coming.

Prince Alexander's Successor.

SOPIA, November 10.—The Sobranje, at a secret session last evening, after debate, which lasted three hours, decided to elect Prince Waldemar, third son of the King of Denmark, as successor to Prince Alexander on the throne of Bulgaria. Prince Waldemar is 28 years old. At to-morrow morning's session of the Sobranje, Premier Radoslovoff will propose Prince Waldemar as the candidate for the throne, and the Sobranje will elect him by acclamation and appoint a committee of five to officially convey the decision to the Prince.

Brannoff, prefect of Sofia, has resigned. His dismissal had been demanded by Kaulbars, because he had ejected a Russian subject from the Sofia Council chamber. The prefect at once offered to resign, but Kaulbars insisted that government dismiss him.

TIKNOVA, November 10.—The session of the Sobranje, to elect a successor to Prince Alexander, was held this morning, and was not deferred till to-morrow, as was expected. The prime minister proposed the name of Waldemar. The whole assembly rose in a body and elected Waldemar by acclamation. The public in the galleries did not participate in the enthusiasm manifested by the deputies.

A Verdict of Carelessness.

PORTAGE, Wis., November 10.—The coroner's jury at Rio concluded their investigation of the recent disaster on the St. Paul road. The verdict finds that the switch was left open by the negligence of C. H. Wells, the brakeman. Wells has been arrested at the instance of the coroner and was taken before a justice of the peace to-day, charged with criminal negligence. He was bound over to appear before the circuit court.

Good Corn Crop.

WASHINGTON, November 10.—The report of the Department of Agriculture says the yield of corn, according to the revised returns of the yield, is twenty-two bushels per acre, making the product upon the present adjustment acreage of 1,800,000,000 bushels. This accords with the recent returns of the condition, and will not be materially changed in the final review of the work of the year.

French Facts.

PARIS, November 10.—Minister Goblet has notified the French Academy of his approval of the academy's acceptance of Chantilly, the gift of the Duc d'Au.

It is expected that the question of the recall of the Duc d'Au will be discussed by the Cabinet. President Grevy personally favors his recall.

To Die For It.

TIKNOVA, November 10.—Captain Nabokoff, the captain who led the recent revolt at Bourgas, has been tried by the Bulgarian authorities for causing an insurrection and convicted. He was sentenced to death. His fellow-conspirators have also been tried and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment each.

Rome.

ROME, November 10.—The Vatican is preparing for publication an encyclical letter, condemning and stigmatizing the Italian government, whose policy, the letter will say, places the Pope in the power of a revolution which menaces his liberty.

What the Effect of a Contest Would Be.

WASHINGTON, November 10.—Representative Wellborne, of Texas, who is one of the ablest and most experienced Parliamentarians in the House, was asked by an Associated Press reporter, to-day, what effect the contest of Mr. Carlisle's seat, should there be a contest, would have upon his candidacy for the Speaker of the House. Mr. Wellborne replied: "Such a contest would furnish no reason whatever why Mr. Carlisle should not be Speaker of the House in the Fiftyeth Congress. Rule 'ten' of the House of Representatives reads: Unless otherwise specially ordered by the House, the Speaker shall appoint, at the commencement of each Congress, the following standing committees. (The list includes the committee on elections and all standing committees of the House.) The rules of the present House cannot be changed by their own force, fix the methods of procedure in subsequent Congresses. Nevertheless, by unbroken usage a new House, as a preliminary to its permanent organization, adopts the rules of the previous House. Such, I think, will be the course in the next House, and rule ten will thus control the constitution of committees in the Fiftyeth Congress. Should there be a contest over Carlisle's seat, the House itself will be suitably way, select a committee on elections, and thus Carlisle will be relieved of any possibility of embarrassment on that score. To hold that Ibsen's contest with Mr. Carlisle disqualifies the latter for Speaker, conduces to a result illogical and absurd. If such a holding were followed, the influence and power of the chosen leader of the dominant party in the House could be effectually crushed at any time, by springing a contested election case, no matter how absolutely devoid it might be of merit."

A Murderous Young Devil.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 10.—Alexander Goldenson, an art student, aged 19, living at 24 1/2 Hayes Street, this city, shot and instantly killed Mamie Kelly, a girl of 14 years, on the corner of Ivy Avenue and Polk Street. Goldenson had for some time been paying the girl attention, and she was deeply in love with him. The only reason Goldenson assigns for the deed is that he was thoroughly tired of her. "When she was at school," he said, "she was out of my sight, but as soon as school was over she was at my heels again. Any man would get tired of that." He also claims that when he refused to answer her letters she called him indecent and hit him on the street. The affair has created intense excitement in that portion of the city where it took place. The deed seems to have been thoroughly unjustifiable. Goldenson surrendered.

Couldn't Live Any Longer.

HARTFORD, Conn., November 10.—This morning, the police found Jesse H. Lord, formerly one of the editors of the Post, but more recently on the Boston Journal of Commerce, and latterly with the Scientific American, lying on the grave of his wife, in the Old North Cemetery. He had killed himself with a revolver.

Woman's Kingdom.

Is the drawing-room. There she shines supreme and her right to the homage of the rougher sex is unquestioned. The more beautiful she is, the more powerful her influence, and perhaps of all the feminine charms that fascinate mankind, a pure and brilliant complexion is the most irresistible. If she has not the gift from nature, she will find it in "GLEN'S SCULPTURE SOAP," certainly the best cosmetic of its kind ever manufactured in this country. Beware of counterfeits. See that "G. N. CURRY," Proprietor, is printed on each packet, without which none is genuine. Sold by druggists at 25 cents; three cakes, 60 cents. The praise bestowed on this article should be shared in an equal degree by "HILL'S INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE," which, though a comparatively cheap article, is rapidly superseding all other dyes in the American market.
